Hidden Message:

The Blades of Daros are daggers marked with a crown. Find the eight pages with these daggers. The right hand borders of these pages form the treasure. To reveal the picture, fold these borders against the final page right hand border. The border strips when lined up next to each other make the crown.

(Apologies for the quality of this image. Effort was made to try to align the strips correctly and repair the image data cropped in the printing/binding process, but this was not always possible, and the compiler of this document is no-artist. If anyone with the book can do better, I'll happily update this document to use their superior image.)
